

A NEW PUNK REVOLUTION IS EXPLODING OUT OF L.A. AND GREECE'S GIRL-FRONTED TRANSPLANTS 'BARB WIRE DOLLS' ARE ON THE FRONTLINES

Inspired by the original Punk and New Wave seeds that came out of New York City (Blondie, Ramones, New York Dolls), London (Sex Pistols, Slits, Clash), and L.A. (X, Germs, Go-Go's), "their (Barb Wire Dolls) music carries a message, much like the anarchy of the Sex Pistols, but without the "no future for you" aspect of it." writes Sid Vicious' ex-girlfriend Teddie Dahlin for the UK's Mudkiss Magazine. Greece's first ever full-time import to the USA, a band that in just a few months ignited and spearheaded an entirely new punk movement on the once wild streets of Los Angeles, is the fire-like phenomenon known as Barb Wire Dolls. The girl-fronted band compared live on stage to "a cross between Blondie and The Sex Pistols" and described as "kinda like a girl-fronted Green Day" by Bouncing Souls, made history by being the first rock band from Greece to play in America in December 2010 at their sold out show at the Roxy Theatre on the Sunset Strip. "This is just what the world needs now, a good girl-fronted punk band" says Charlotte Cooper of the UK's Subways.

"Barb Wire Dolls are going to take over the world. The world needs their music and attitude. Everything is so lame and boring and these punks are a breath of fresh air. Take it from me, I've been around and experienced and lived all the scenes from the past 30 years from London to Seattle. I feel the change and it's called Barb Wire Dolls! They are the next fucking Nirvana!" After being discovered and played non-stop on L.A.'s world famous KROQ radio station by Rodney Bingenheimer who has been instrumental in launching careers of such bands as The Sex Pistols, The Ramones, The Clash, Blondie, Nirvana and numerous other popular 'take it to the street' rock bands" writes Hollywood Weekly Magazine about Barb Wire Dolls and while still living in an artist commune on the Greek island of Crete, the band sold all and relocated to the bright city lights of Los Angeles to live their dream. "Every few years or so a band comes along that changes the music landscape. They are different from the other bands that are out there. They bring something new and exciting to an otherwise generic music scene that the public has grown tired of. The Beatles did this, The Sex Pistols did this, Gun's and Roses did this, Nirvana did this. But for the past 20 years no band has been able to stand out from their predecessors. No band has been able to re-ignite the music scene, to bring back the energy it once had....that is until now. With their sound, their look and their attitude, Barb Wire Dolls are going to do what no band has been able to do within the last two decades...take the music industry by storm" writes Sugarbuzz Magazine.
